LOCAL FIREMEN RESPOND TO 74 ALARMS IN 1952

Gettysburg firemen answered 74 alarms during 1952, in which estimated losses probably exceeded $5,000, but of this total, less than 1,000 damage was in Gettysburg itself. The local fire loss the preceding year was estimated at approximately $5,000, with nearly as many fires, 72. In 1950 there were calls answered.

Three fires alone, at which the Gettysburg Department gave assistance, ran up a total loss of approximately $100,000, according to department records. The largest was the fire which destroyed the Alpha White garage in Littlestown, February 24. The loss in this fire was estimated at $75,000.

Two other fires at which Gettysburg firemen rendered assistance were the Niblett barn at Sugar Run, loss $15,000, and the Allison farm, near Littlestown, loss $10,000.

The largest single loss in Gettysburg was the fire at the home of Robert Shealer, Springs Avenue, ended, on December 1. Mr. Shealer was in the service. His mother, Paul Shealer, estimated damage at $18,000.

Other Local Fires
Other fires to which Gettysburg paratous was called and estimated losses were: Goldsmiths, Breckenridge St., January 2, $2,500; a shed at the home of Jvin Shank, Springs Ave., February 16, $600; a home at 215 W. 8th St. where an oil stove exploded, March 7, $500; a construction building at the new sewage disposal plant on April 6, $3,000; roadside stand on the Harrisburg Rd. April 29, $3,300; shed at barn on Steinwehr Ave. June 1, $2,500; truck on the Harrisburg Rd. October 10, $1,000; fire in Evans Hall, Gettysburg College, November 16, $300; borough roller, $1,500.

S. Richard Lemberg Foresees "Normal Economy" Ahead; Says U.S. Is At Crossroads

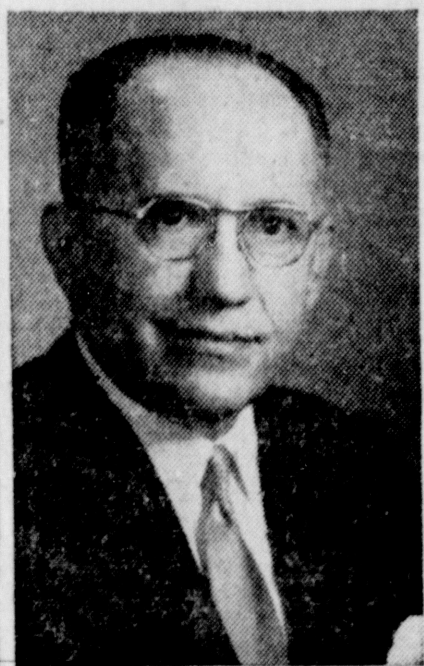

"The party is over. We are now in the process of switching from a sellers to a buyers market."

"Almost all of the elements that contributed to inflation in recent years have now been greatly modified and deflationary forces are gradually taking their place. Any acceleration in cutting back armament and military spending will proportionately increase deflationary action and make itself felt in the form of surplus facilities and manpower."

Thus S. Richard Lemberg, general manager of the Gettysburg Furniture Companies, voiced his opinion on the business outlook for 1953 to a reporter for The Gettysburg Times.

"We are returning to a more normal and highly competitive economy barring unforeseen and sudden developments in the Korean-Russian situation that would compel a more vigorous military emergency action," he continued.

"Downward Readjustments"
"We can look for important readjustments downward in the consumer goods field. The tremendous backlog of demand for consumer goods accumulated between

NEW YEAR'S MESSAGE - 1953

By Dr. Walter Consuelo Langsam
President of Gettysburg College

IT IS an interesting phenomenon that we regularly seem as glad to "ring out" a year as we originally were to "ring it in." Presumably we shall run true to form and welcome 1953 as cordially as, a year ago, we welcomed 1952. Apparently we can only "stand" a year for twelve months—and then gleefully replace it with a new one, hoping that this new one will bring with it all the good things which the old one lacked.

This perennial optimism, this joyful expectancy that "the best is yet to be," is surely one of God's greatest gifts to man. Let us, in the year to come, show our appreciation for this divine gift by helping to make the new year a better one. How? By living daily in accord with the teachings of Him Whose coming has brought to us our Christian Era.

The above New Year's message was written by Dr. Langsam at the request of The Gettysburg Times

Reduction In Expenditures May Slow Up Business For A Time, Says John A. Hauser

"Necessary changes (in the new administration in Washington) may reduce expenditures and actually slow up business and spending for a time," is the belief of John A. Hauser, President of the C. H. Musselman Company, Biglerville.

Mr. Hauser made this statement when The Gettysburg Times asked his opinion on the business outlook for 1953.

His requested statement follows: "A business man naturally knows more about his own business than any other. So in the national and international front I can only say that a new national leadership is definitely in the interest of business, family and personal security. The socialist minded administrations of recent years piled up taxes and burden of detail and controls which seriously hindered business and hurt the individual whether he was an employee, professional man or individual business man. To the extent that such pressure is relieved it should help business in the long run."

JOHN A. HAUSER

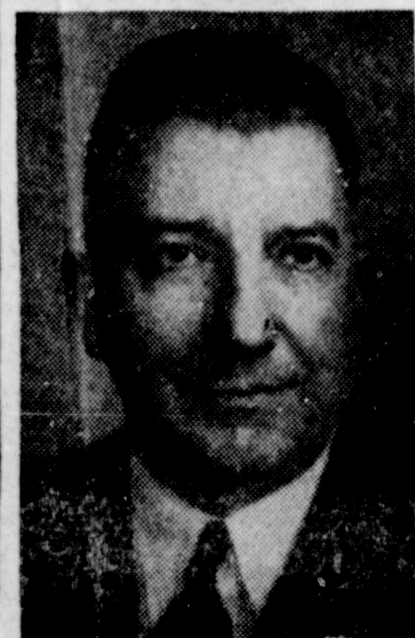

"But I think we should realize that the necessary changes may reduce expenditures and actually (Please Turn to Page 7)

Men Of Proven Ability In New Administration Lend Confidence, Says Thomas

"Making predictions is dangerous and sometimes misleading. A cartoon of a doctor leaning over his patient in a hospital bed illustrates what I mean. The doctor was saying to his patient 'one way or another I'll have you out of here in a week.'" Edmund W. Thomas, president of the First National Bank of Gettysburg, told The Gettysburg Times today.

"However, there are certain factors actually present that have a definite bearing on our economic future. The development of television for industrial uses has tremendous possibilities for new and better methods for economies and increased production. Its use by some of the large public utilities and steel manufacturers is bringing about much greater efficiency, greater production and worthwhile economies. Transportation, and particularly aviation, is showing remarkable progress. The chemical industry is one that has made continuous progress that applies to and affects almost every line of endeavor and almost everybody. The potentialities in this field are very great and very promising. Research is playing a big part in our national progress."

Music for dancing will be furnished by George Olinger and his orchestra. Punch and refreshments will be served.

24 TRUCKS, 64 MEN WORK ON SNOW REMOVAL

State Highway Department workmen were completing their biggest snow removal job so far this winter today as they plowed secondary routes and cindered dangerous spots on main highways.

Reporting a five-inch snowfall was general in this area, the Highway Department maintenance crew here had 24 trucks and 64 men working through the night on snow removal and cindering. The roads were slushy until between 3 and 4 o'clock when the temperature dropped below freezing.

Three graders, 12 truck-mounted plows manned by 30 workmen started plowing roads about 12:30 p.m. Wednesday and have continued through the night. Nine other pieces of equipment were engaged in cindering work with 34 men assigned to that task.

Clear Streets by 7 a.m.
The borough highway crew, under the direction of Borough Engineer LeRoy H. Winebrenner, began its New Year work at about 2 a.m. when eight men gathered with trucks and snow loaders to remove the accumulation of snow from the streets. With the center of town packed full of cars of New Year's celebrators, the men worked with hand shovels until about 3 o'clock. By that time the cars had gone and the mechanical loader could begin its task. The streets were clear of snow by 7 o'clock this morning.

Borough police reported the night as one of the quietest in years; no accidents, no arrests, no disorderly conduct; "just the snow and the New Year."

ARTILLERY FIRE, SKIRMISHES ON KOREAN FRONT

SEOUL (AP) — Artillery barrages and scattered skirmishes ushered in the new year in the stalemated Korean war.

United Nations troops, supported by warplanes and the big guns, threw back Communist patrols on the snow-carpeted, 155-mile front which hasn't changed much in a year.

An Allied patrol reported killing 40 Reds and wounding 12 in the sharpest clash New Year's Day—a 30-minute skirmish Northwest of Korangpo on the western front.

Elsewhere the Communists attacked in groups of 10 to 30.

During the last hours of 1952, allied artillery lit up the skies in a barrage saluting the new year and reminding the Reds of the Eighth Army's fire power. A briefing officer said every U. N. big gun fired at least one shell at the stroke of midnight Wednesday. Communist guns replied.

The Navy announced the U. S. battleship Missouri bombed and greatly damaged a war plant at Chongjin, less than 60 miles from the border of Soviet Siberia and on the Northeast Korean coast. The Navy said the factory was shelled all day Tuesday.

Sabre Jets Unchallenged
Allied Sabre jets patrolled Northwest Korea but were unchallenged by Communist MIGs.

The Fifth Air Force—totaling up its December figures—reported Sabre jet pilots destroyed 27 MIGs, damaged 26 and probably destroyed eight—while losing only two Sabres

'52 WAS SECOND WETTEST YEAR IN HALF A CENTURY

With the wettest spring in many years and a fall so dry that the opening of the small game season had to be delayed because of the danger of forest fires, the year 1952 put into local weather annals the second heaviest rainfall for any year in the last half century but its average temperatures came within less than two degrees of the 50-year normal.

The rainfall last March and April totaled over 13 inches. March's 6.86 inches made it the wettest March here since 1915 and April's 6.69 inches of rain gave that month the heaviest rainfall for any April in 15 years.

The year's total — including 12.7 inches of snow — came to 52.84 inches.

Second Only To 1942

That mark nosed out the 52.78 inches measured here in 1937 and placed 1952 second only to 1942 for the title of the wettest year in local weather records. The total for 1942 when it "rained all summer" was 55.88 inches. Normal here is 41.12 inches.

That record was set in spite of the fact that February, June, August, October and December were short of rain. The excesses in the other months offset those shortages.

The temperature range was from 99 degrees last June 26 to a nibe above zero on January 30 but when the high and low readings for the 366 days last year were averaged 1952 came up with an average of 53.81 degrees. "Normal" has been shown during the last 50 years to be 52.28 degrees.

October Driest, July Hottest
The wettest months last year were March, April, November and July, each with more than six inches. October was the driest with only 1.61 inches.

The hottest month was July when more than a third of the days saw high readings in the 90's, although the hottest day of the summer came late in June at 99.

Winter Thundershowers
Both the extreme hot and cold temperatures reached here in 1952 were far from records. Below zero readings here are not unusual and the all-time high is 105 degrees.

No heavy snows fell last year. There were only two inches in January, a trace of snow in February, 6.8 inches in March, an inch in November and 2.9 inches (Please Turn to Page 3)

Grandson Of Judge Wills Dies In Crash

Mr. and Mrs. David Wills Bridges, 534 W. University Parkway, Baltimore, were killed late Wednesday afternoon in a head-on automobile collision at Pleasant Hill, near Harrisburg. David Forney, Gettysburg, a cousin, said he was informed.

Mr. Bridges was a grandson of the late Judge David Wills, whose home is located at the southeast corner of Lincoln Square, and who was host to President Lincoln on the latter's visit here in 1863.

Mr. and Mrs. Bridges were returning to Baltimore after visiting a daughter in Buffalo, Mr. Forney said, when another car, attempting to pass a truck, crashed head-on into their automobile.

Mr. Bridges' only close relative is a sister, Mrs. Charles Reeder, Baltimore. Funeral arrangements have not been completed, but it is expected interment will be in Evergreen Cemetery here.

TWO CARS COLLIDE

Borough police Wednesday afternoon at 12:30 o'clock investigated an accident on the fifth block of W. Middle St. in which cars operated by Raymond L. Rosenberry, Biglerville, and Joseph A. Liller, Gettysburg R. 2, collided. Damage to the Rosenberry car was estimated by police at $18 and to the Liller vehicle at $150.

FILE APPLER WILL

The will of Edwin U. Appler, late of Germany Twp., has been entered for probate at the office of the county register and recorder. The widow, Myrtle B. Appler, Littlestown R. 1, is executrix of the $4,400 estate.

BABE DIES TODAY

Barbara Ellen Jelfcoat, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Jelfcoat, 126 West St., died at birth at the Warner Hospital at 12:30 o'clock this morning. Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

JAILED FOR HEARING

Harry A. McHone, 53, 133 N. Stratton St., was arrested Wednesday night at 8:45 o'clock by borough police on a disorderly conduct charge. He was placed in jail pending a hearing before a local justice of the peace.

JOINT MEETING MONDAY

A joint meeting of the Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce with members of the Retail Credit Bureau Committee is scheduled in the chamber's office, Kadel Building, Monday night at 8 o'clock.

Ike With His Family Today

NEW YORK (AP) — President-elect Eisenhower took time out for New Year's with his family today after voicing the hope that 1953 will bring peace to the world.

The general's headquarters said he planned to spend a quiet day at his Columbia University residence and then be on hand at his Commodore Hotel office tomorrow for another round of conferences in preparation for the start of the new administration January 20.

As he left his headquarters late yesterday, Eisenhower stood before a battery of microphones and newswire cameras, and said:

"I hope 1953 will be the finest any of us have ever experienced. Particularly, I hope the year will bring to us the assurance that peace will again come to the world."

235 MARRIAGE LICENSES ARE ISSUED IN 1952

Marriage business was brisk in Adams County during 1952, but a larger number of wedding knots slipped than usual.

Records at the county clerk of courts office show that 235 marriage permits were issued during the past 366 days, an increase of 13 over the 222 recorded in 1951. The number was higher than the 232 listed in 1949, but not up to the 246 permits issued in 1950, nor the 252 recorded in 1948, nor the all-time high of 294 set by the rush of marriages when the men returned from World War II.

The number of divorces started, on the other hand, was the highest in five years. Twenty-five couples sought dissolution of their marriage vows before the Adams County court in 1952, as compared with 20 in 1951, 15 in 1950, 21 in 1949, 24 in 1948. The prior year, 1947, topped last year with 28 applications for divorce.

Judge W. C. Sheely granted 16 divorces during 1952, an increase over the 11 in 1951, 12 in 1950 and 14 in 1949, but less than the 17 recorded in 1948 and 29 in 1947. One divorce was discontinued during the year and one has already been started for 1953.

"Month Of Brides"
While apparently there was no particular time for divorces, June continues to be the top month for marriages. During the "month of brides" last year 37 marriage licenses were issued by the local clerk of courts.

That number compares with 36 in June 1951, 42 in that month in 1950; 52 (an all-time record) in 1949, 49 in 1948 and 51 in 1946.

December seems to be growing in popularity as a month for weddings. This past month 27 permits to wed were granted, as compared to 22 in December 1951, and 16 in 1949. May, which proved popular in 1951 when 35 marriage licenses were secured, fell off in popularity this year when only 19 couples signed the books to get their permission to see the preacher.

Marriages licenses granted by month during 1952 include: January 11, February 14, March 15, April 15, May 19, June 37, July 16, August 28, September 17, October 18, November 18, December 27.

Western Maryland Pageant And Ike's Visit Here Voted Best Local Stories Of 1952

The Western Maryland Railway Company's presentation of "Mr. Lincoln Goes to Gettysburg" as the climax of its observance of the centennial of the birth of the president here on October 18 was unquestionably the outstanding event and the best news story of 1952 in Gettysburg.

Members of the news staff of The Gettysburg Times, in picking the 10 best local news stories of the year, were unanimous in giving top place to the re-enactment of President Lincoln's 1863 visit to Gettysburg for the dedication of the National Cemetery, during which he delivered his now immortal "Gettysburg Address."

Several hundred local people took part in the pageant, in which the part of Lincoln was portrayed by Ray Middleton, star of stage, screen and television.

Seven Injured, Two Seriously, In Three Highway Accidents On Last Afternoon Of 1952

Seven persons were injured, two seriously, in three automobile accidents on the last day of the year, Wednesday. State police said all of the crashes occurred during the afternoon and that they received no reports of New Year's Eve or early New Year's Day accidents.

Two of the accidents Wednesday afternoon were blamed on slippery highway conditions caused by the snow.

Three persons were injured at 3:10 p.m. Wednesday on the Harrisburg Rd. three-tenths of a mile north of York Springs when two automobiles, traveling north, skidded into a tractor-trailer truck.

The first car was operated by Emmet Walsh, 52, of Rochester, N. Y. Police said the Walsh car was moving down a grade when it started to skid, slid across the highway and struck the right front of a tractor-trailer operated by Rowlen Lee Huffman, 41, of New Oxford.

Woman Badly Injured
An automobile operated by Gilbert Romanoski, 41, of Plymouth, Pa., was following the Walsh car. When he saw the latter skid, he applied his brakes, police said, turned around and also hit the tractor, which was hauling a tank trailer loaded with fuel oil.

Mrs. Georgia Walsh, 44, of Rochester, wife of the driver of the first car, suffered a possible fractured skull, and fractured nose, severe lacerations of the head and neck and a fractured right arm. She was brought by ambulance to the Warner Hospital. Her husband, Emmet, suffered a fractured finger of the left hand and multiple lacerations and abrasions. The Walshes were returning from a honeymoon in Washington, D. C.

Car Is Demolished
Mrs. Rose Romanoski, 36, of Plymouth, Pa., wife of the driver of the other car, suffered possible chest injuries. She went to the Harrisburg Hospital for x-rays, police said.

The Walsh car was demolished, according to police, with a loss estimated at $2,500. Damage to the Romanoski car was estimated at $500 and to the truck at $1,000. The latter lost 700 gallons of fuel oil, valued at $80.

Mrs. Kathryn M. Hahn, 43, of 59 W. Myrtle St., Littlestown, suffered a possible fracture of the skull, a fractured collarbone and lacerations of the head when an automobile she was driving skidded, went up an embankment and turned over on the Littlestown-Hanover Road at 4:45 p.m. Wednesday three miles north of Littlestown, according to state police. LEARNS ABOUT
PARTIES HARD WAY AT HOME

By HAL BOYLE
HOMETOWN, U. S. A. (AP) — Like millions of other average American couples, Wilbur and Trellis Mae decided to spend New Year's Eve quietly at home.

"Why make fools of ourselves in some night club?" said Wilbur. "It really is more fun to be sensible than silly," agreed Trellis Mae.

Bored And Restless
And so they stayed home. And, like millions of other average couples who had had the same idea, by 9 o'clock they were bored and restless. Trellis Mae had darned all the socks she felt like darning, and Wilbur had finished the crossword puzzle in the evening newspaper—that is, except for the hard words. Those he never bothered with. Waste of time.

Wilbur felt to wondering how Homer McFudge, his office pal, and Homer's wife, Hortense, were celebrating the arrival of the new year.

"Bet they're off at some noisy, stupid party," he said.

Calls The McFudges
"Why don't you call them and see?" said Trellis Mae eagerly. Wilbur dialed the McFudges. "Whatcha doing, Homer?" "Just finished the crossword puzzle," said Homer. "Me and Hortense are spending New Year's Eve sensible."

"Me and Trellis Mae, too," said Wilbur.

Pause.

"Why'n't you two drop over here?" said Wilbur. "No party or anything. Just sit around and chin."

"Like to, Wilbur, but my cousin, Hercules, is visiting us."

"Well-I-I, bring him along."

"Fine. Be right over."

Wilbur hung up and said defensively, "Honey, I had to invite them over. You know how Homer is—talked me into a corner."

JUSTICE MEN AT ODDS OVER PROBE OF REDS

By HARRY SNYDER
WASHINGTON (AP)—Testimony before a House investigating committee left wide open today the question whether there will be a renewed grand jury probe of alleged Communist infiltration in America's United Nations staff.

Two witnesses from the Justice Department disagreed on the stand yesterday about a proposal to impanel a new grand jury to resume the work.

U. S. Attorney Myles J. Lane of New York testified a new jury would renew the quest early next week. But Asst. Atty. Gen. Charles B. Murray differed, and said he would carry his protest to Atty. Gen. James P. McGranery.

Secretary of State Acheson, who testified for an hour and 35 minutes, defended his aides against charges they were lax in screening disloyal Americans in the U. N.

Accused of Tampering
"We are doing the best we can," he said.

The Judiciary Subcommittee headed by Rep. Chelf (D-Ky.) aired charges yesterday that the State and Justice Departments hampered a New York grand jury by trying to delay or tone down its Communists-in-the-U. N. report filed Dec. 2. Spokesmen from both agencies vigorously denied the charges before the committee.

The committee, now in the position of watching to see what federal authorities will do about the probe, has only two days of life left.

It dissolves officially with the expiration of the 82nd Congress Friday. But Rep. Keating (R-NY), the ranking Republican member, says he will seek to have it re-created by the new Congress convening Saturday.

Acheson insisted that disloyal Americans in the U. N. have not endangered the national security but have given this country "a bad name and a black eye." He said: "I do agree more drastic measures are necessary and more drastic measures are being taken."

Has Right to Interfere
Murray, chief of the department's Criminal Division, said McGranery "has the right to interfere with anything that is wrong." And he believes a grand jury has no right to proceed "unless it believes it can return an indictment." The New York jury returned no indictments but called strongly for continued investigation.

Acheson's comment that national security was not harmed by disloyal Americans in the U. N. brought a sharp retort from Sen. O'Connor (D-Md.), a member of the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee. The Senate group also has taken up the grand jury's charges.

"It is my definite belief," O'Connor said in a statement today, "that their employment and their continued service in the U. N. has been a constant threat to our nation's welfare. . . . People who are under Communist discipline certainly are not striving to advance America's welfare."

ROSENBERGS' PLEA REFUSED

NEW YORK (AP)—The U. S. Circuit of Appeals has turned down a plea for a new trial for Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, doomed atom spies.

Federal District Judge Sylvester J. Ryan's refusal to grant a new trial was upheld yesterday by the appeals court.

Counsel for the New York City couple—scheduled to die in the electric chair at Sing Sing Prison during the week of Jan. 11—may make a plea to the White House for pardon or clemency.

May Delay Execution
Federal District Judge Irving R. Kaufman, who pronounced the death sentences 20 months ago, reserved decision on a clemency plea on Tuesday. He said "plenty of time" would be allowed for an appeal to the White House, and indicated he might delay the execution date. The U. S. Supreme Court has refused to intervene in the case.

A federal court jury convicted to transmit American atomic bomb secrets to Russia.

The appeals court yesterday also upheld the lower court ruling denying a new trial for Morton Sobell, serving a term of 30 years to life in Alcatraz Prison in the same case.

NAME OMITTED
Mrs. Robert Stonestier, who died at her home in Emmitsburg Tuesday morning, is survived by four daughters. Names of only three were listed in the account of her death on Wednesday. The fourth daughter is Mrs. Truman Hahn, Taneytown, Md.

New Court Order Aids Rubinstein

WASHINGTON (AP)—A court order—effective until 11 a.m., EST, Monday—stood today between Serge Rubinstein and immigration inspectors who want to cart him off to Ellis Island for deportation.

Attorneys for the 45-year-old, Russian-born financier said they plan new legal steps in the meantime to prevent him from being taken into custody.

The U. S. Court of Appeals here came to Rubinstein's aid late yesterday for the second time in two days.

The court, after listening to arguments by rival attorneys, issued what amounted to a don't-touch-him-yet order.

NEW YORK HIT BY WORST BUS STRIKE KNOWN

NEW YORK (AP)—New York City was hit by the biggest bus strike in its history as the whistles and bells ushered in the New Year.

Eight thousand-odd drivers and maintenance men on 125 routes were called out last midnight in a wage-hour dispute.

Michael J. Quill, president of the CIO Transport Workers Union, said the walkout would idle all 3,500 buses of eight privately-owned companies.

These companies carry about 3½ million fares on a normal business day, in Manhattan, the Bronx, Queens and the lower part of suburban Westchester County.

The strike affected only a fraction of New York's vast subway-elevated-bus-trolley systems, most of them owned and operated by the city.

Storm Hits City
The stoppage began on schedule at 12:01 a.m. (EST) as a snow and sleet storm swept the city and kept many merry-makers indoors.

The city had ample warning of the strike, but many New Year's Eve celebrants had a difficult time getting home to areas serviced by the tied-up lines.

Quill, who joined one of the picket lines thrown around company garages, declared "we'll stay out until we win." Shortly after the strike started, he said "everything is going according to schedule."

The companies did not try to run any buses. Roughly 7,000 of those called out on strike are drivers. City officials had tried—almost up to the strike deadline—to persuade the union to submit the dispute to arbitration or mediation.

Contracts between the TWU and eight companies expired at midnight.

Principal issue in the dispute is the TWU's demand for a 40-hour work week on the private lines. The men now work 44 to 48 hours. In addition to the hours cut—with no reduction in take-home pay—the union demands a pay increase of 25 cents an hour. Current pay ranges from $1.66 to $1.73½ an hour.

LEARNS ABOUT

his Mae. "I'll go right out in the kitchen and fix a few snacks."

Half an hour later the McFudges arrived with Hercules, a bulking figure whose shoulders touched both sides of the doorway as he entered.

"Cousin Hercules is a professional wrestler," explained Homer. Hercules sat down in Trellis Mae's best antique chair—and it promptly collapsed.

That gave everybody a big laugh—except Trellis Mae. After a few refreshments had been poured, however, everybody seemed relaxed and happy but Hercules. He brooded.

Today Wrestlers Arrive
"Hercules is lonesome for his buddies," said Homer. "Wrestlers are even closer outside a ring than they are in it."

"Call up a few, and have them drop over, Hercules," said Wilbur. Hercules did. An hour later a dozen burly characters arrived, escorting some half dozen even burlier lady wrestlers.

By midnight Hercules and his muscle-bound buddies had eaten the refrigerator bare and drained Wilbur's entire liquor supply.

"Happy New Year! Happy New Year!" everyone cried.

Then the wrestlers frankly began trying out their favorite holds, first on each other, then on the furniture.

Disappears Into TV Set
"Here comes my famous flying tackle," said Hercules, launching himself through the air at Wilbur. Wilbur quickly sidestepped, and Hercules' head disappeared inside the television set. Glass tinkled to the floor.

Well, at this point the police arrived, followed by a group of peering neighbors.

"Guess the party's over," said Homer. He and Hortense left, followed by the gentlemen and lady wrestlers. They hauled out the unconscious Hercules by his arms and legs—the first wrestler in history to be kayoed by a TV set.

Fears Morning After
Wilbur looked around the wreckage of his living room.

"Honey, I — I — I —" he

NOISY TOASTS, PEACE PRAYERS WELCOME 1953

NEW YORK (AP)—A war-jittery world greeted 1953 today with noisy toasts to better times, and quiet prayers for peace.

The cup that cheers was drained from Times Square around the globe, in plush night club and honky-tonk, in town house and tenement.

But the din could not drown out the supplications of millions—many with loved ones on the fighting fronts—that 1953 would end the shooting wars in Korea, Indochina and Malaya and the cold war between East and West.

President Truman figured the outlook for world peace better now than it was a year ago.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, soon to succeed him in the world's biggest job, had a New Year's hope that 1953 "will bring back to us the assurance that peace will again come to the world."

Cheer Churchill
Prime Minister Winston Churchill, on his way to see Eisenhower and Truman, joined fellow passengers on the liner Queen Mary in welcoming the new year.

Greeted by a cheering crowd in the first class lounge, he said:

"I trust we will all have a safe passage to the other side of the world and will strengthen the bonds between England and the great republic of the United States."

A snow and sleet storm tended to hold down the midnight street crowds in Manhattan. Times Square had a throng of 200,000 at midnight, police estimated.

In the past years, the estimate has run up to one million.

Most night club and hotel proprietors in New York weren't growling—neither were many of them exactly elated—over the cash registers' tune.

Among churches drawing large New Year's Eve attendances were St. Patrick's Cathedral and the Episcopal Cathedral of St. John the Divine.

$30,000 Party
Weather and other conditions affected the size of the holiday turnouts in cities from coast to coast.

In Hollywood, a millionaire Texan oilman gave a party last night that was the Sunset Strip's biggest New Year's Eve event in years. Tevis F. Morrow bought out the Mocambo for the night—to honor a couple of Dallas friends, he said. There were 400 guests from all over the country, and the cost was an estimated $30,000.

Many Americans in Moscow attended an all-night party at American House on the Moscow river a few miles from the Kremlin.

The Moscow Radio, broadcasting New Year's greetings to the "plain people of America," exalted 1953 will be a year of peace and good will among men.

The Kremlin radio also broadcast greetings to Canada.

In Belgrade, Yugoslavia, Premier Marshal Tito expressed confidence on a broadcast that a third world war can and will be averted.

Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek, delivering a message to the people of Formosa from Taipei, said 1953 must be a year of mobilization and final preparation for the "recovery of the mainland" by the Chinese Nationalist armed forces.

LONG HOLIDAY WEEKEND OPENS WITH 6 DEATHS

By The Associated Press

Six persons died on Pennsylvania's ice and slush covered highways in pre-holiday accidents as New Year's Day, 1953 ushered in another long, four-day weekend.

A single Central Pennsylvania accident claimed the lives of three travelers while two of the dead were pedestrians involved in Western Pennsylvania mishaps.

Snow which began falling over much of the state yesterday (Wednesday) afternoon made things difficult for thousands of motorists heading home or for places to celebrate the New Year. Temperatures hovering around the freezing mark overnight put slick finishes over miles of highways.

Deaths On Susquehanna Trail
The forecast was for still more snow in the easternmost areas but only flurries in Western Pennsylvania.

Over the long Christmas weekend the state's accidental death toll reached 38. Two of yesterday's deaths occurred when two cars speeding in opposite directions piled into each other in the middle lane of the Susquehanna Trail, some five miles north of Liverpool, Perry County, killing the occupants of both autos.

Killed instantly were David W. Bridges, 60, and his wife Winona, of Baltimore, and Bobby Schilling, 23, a sailor, from Lock Haven. Police partly blamed the l.w. visibility and poor condition of the road for the mumbled.

But he was talking to himself. Trellis Mae had gone into the bedroom and slammed and locked the door. Wilbur silently stretched out on the broken sofa, and wished the morning after would never come.

Moral: If you plan to spend a quiet New Year's Eve at home—as far away from the earth as is the sun

Mother Of Four Kills Her Husband

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A 34-year-old mother of four shot and killed her state highway patrol husband New Year's Eve after an argument over 10 chinchillas she raised in the basement.

Homicide Inspector Al Neider said Mrs. Caroline O'Malley gave this account:

John T. O'Malley, 35, upbraided her for keeping chinchillas that were unfriendly to each other in the same pen. At one point, he shouted: "I'll kill you."

He left the house, returned and resumed the argument. She went upstairs, got O'Malley's service revolver, met him on the cellar steps and shot him.

"I just kept on shooting," Neider quoted her.

Four daughters, aged 11, 9, 8 and 3, were upstairs.

Mrs. O'Malley was booked for investigation of murder.

crack-up.

State police said the collision occurred when Schilling attempted to pass another vehicle.

Bus Passengers Hurt
In one of hundreds of non-fatal accidents 18 passengers on a Washington to Scranton Greyhound bus were injured south of York.

State police reported the bus was hit by part of a tractor-trailer which skidded and jackknifed when its driver tried to apply the brakes on Route 111, just south of Loganville.

Thirteen persons received treatment for injuries and five were admitted to York Hospital.

An Ohio man, Jack G. Baker, Conneaut, was struck and killed by a car while walking to his auto near Girard, in Erie County.

Another pedestrian, Frank L. Es-kin, 57, of Forest Hills, died two hours after being hit by a delivery truck while crossing a boulevard intersection near Pittsburgh in Allegheny County.

LOCAL FIREMEN

Donald G. Jacobs, were: January, $1,500; February, $75,800; March, $200; April, $375; May, $5,800; June, $12,500; July, $15,000; August, $3,500; September, $1,025; October, $1,250; November, $350 and December, $18,075. The latter figure is exclusive of the Bon Ton store fire in Hanover the night of December 30, at which Gettysburg equipment assisted. No estimate was made of the loss.

12 House Blazes

The 74 calls were for a wide variety of fires, or, in one or two instances, no fire at all. Some of the calls were cancelled after the siren had sounded. On some calls, among them the Shealer fire, the department was called twice.

Statistics compiled by William G. Weaver, president of the fire company, show that there were 12 house fires during the year; 13 chimney fires; 12 in woods, brush or grass; eight in cars or trucks; five caused from heaters or furnaces; three from electric light wires or poles; one at Gettysburg College and one at the Gettysburg Lutheran Theological Seminary; two in private garages, two barns, two awnings (one at the Warner Hospital) and one each for the following:

Public garage, apartment house, Gettysburg High School (incinerator), tourist cabin, shed, roadside stand, tree, roller, sump pump and one false alarm.

Fires By Months

The number of fires by months were: January, 5; February, 7; March, 6; April, 5; May, 5; June, 6; July, 3; August, 2; September, 4; October, 9; November, 12, and December, 10. The 12 fires in November were the largest number for this month in four years. Weaver said. By days of the week the fires were listed as: Sunday, 10; Monday, 7; Tuesday, 10; Wednesday, 11; Thursday, 13; Friday, 11, and Saturday, 12. By hours, there were four fires from midnight to 6 a.m.; 15 from 6 a.m. to noon; 37 from noon to 6 p.m. and 17 from 6 p.m. to midnight.

By locations in the borough there were four fires in the northeast section; nine in the northwest; 18 in the southwest and six in the southeast.

Rural fires, designated in general by roads they were located on or near, were: York Rd., 5; Hunterstown Rd., 1; Harrisburg Rd., 5; Carlisle Rd., 1; Mummaburg Rd., 2; Chambersburg Rd., 4; Fairfield Rd., 2; Emmitsburg Rd., 7; Taneytown Rd., 1; Baltimore Rd., 4, and Hanover Rd., 1.

There was one fire on the battlefield and one on the Littlestown Rd. On the 74 fire calls, the Gettysburg Fire Department pumped water from hydrants or ponds ponds seven times during the year. Booster lines were used 32 times and hand tanks nine times. At 25 fires the services of the firemen were not needed, it turned out.

EARLY HIGHWAY DEATH TOLL LOW

By The Associated Press

Death got off to a slow start on the nation's highways in the new year.

Junior High Dribblers Open With Carlisle Here Tuesday; Coach Herr Has One Letterman

Gettysburg Junior High School's basketball squad is busily engaged preparing for the opening game of a 12-game schedule here next Tuesday evening with Carlisle.

A squad, which originally totaled 51 candidates, has been cut to 29 by Coaches Rogers Herr and his assistant, Luther I. Sachs Jr.

Merle Gorman is the lone veteran remaining on the varsity squad from last season.

In addition to Gorman, Coach Herr has retained the following who are battling for varsity berths: John Coleman, Donald Smith, Rolf Johnson, Joe Fox, Fred Furney, William Woods, Peter Pennington, Roland Keller, Roland Schriver and Glenn Weishaar.

Jayvee Squad Members

The complete schedule for the junior high leads follows: January 6, Carlisle, home; 9, Shippensburg, away; 13, Waynesboro, home; 20, Mechanicsburg, away; 23, Hanover, away; 27, Chambersburg, home; February 3, Carlisle, away; 6, Shippensburg, home; 10, Waynesboro, away; 17, Mechanicsburg, home; 20, Hanover, home, and 24, Chambersburg, away.

ALL-AMERICAN RED HEADS TO PERFORM HERE
A unique basketball attraction will be offered local fans Thursday evening, January 8, when the All-American Red Heads, heralded as the world's greatest girls' team, will clash with the Hanover Moose quintet on the Gettysburg High School floor.

The Red Heads have become famous for their excellent brand of ball since organizing 13 years ago. They have played more than 2,000 games in the United States, Canada, Mexico and the Philippines. Since formation of the team they have always played men's teams—under men's rules—and have defeated some top notch outfits.

Essentially, the girls do not play to win all the games but rather to give the fans a good time and a fine show. Two of the girls go 6-4 and 6-3 in height. "Butch" Moore is one of the head-liners and features trick foul shooting in her repertoire. "Jeep" Gogle is a Johnstown, Pa. member of the group.

Have Zaney Tricks
The Red Heads have been tabbed as the girls' "Harlem Globetrotters" due to the clever and oftentimes zaney action on the floor. They have many trick routines that have made them popular wherever they have performed.

A number of Hanover Moose players are well-known in local circles. Jack Divney, East Berlin High coach; Wayne Mummert and Ken Geiger, members of last year's East Berlin Class C champs, are members of the squad. "Soapy" Hart, who led Hanover High to the South Penn diadem last season; Jack Persing, former Bloomsburg State Teachers' College star; Dick Sanders, Dick Swartz and Herb Bowman complete the roster.

Arrangements are underway to have the Hanover Moose jayvees meet a local team in the preliminary game at 7 o'clock. Admission will be $1, tax included.

MAY TELEVIEW PIAA PLAYOFFS

HARRISBURG (P)—High school Class A basketball championship playoff games may be televised in 1953, a Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association official report on Wednesday.

"We may experiment with television in our championship games," Mark N. Funk, executive director of the PIAA, told an association meeting here.

"If a game has sell-out attendance, we should allow as many people to see the game as possible," Funk said.

Funk added, "The PIAA board gave me the responsibility to determine if we should televise state championship games. The chances are that we will do so."

The Class A basketball championship playoff game is scheduled for Philadelphia's Convention Hall, March 27.

The Suez Canal is about 100 miles long.

PASADENA, Calif. (P)—An air of calm confidence prevailed on the quad of the university of Wisconsin and Southern California as they approached the kickoff hour in Game No. 7 in the famed Rose Bowl between the Big Ten and Coast Conferences.

Game time was set for 2 p. m. (5 p. m. eastern standard time), and while good weather was forecast for the expected 100,000 fans, the turf promised to be on the soggy side, if not slippery in places, from rain two days ago.

This, the 39th game in the oldest bowl game of all, will be seen and heard around the nation over the National Broadcasting Company's television and radio networks.

Southern California, with its vaunted defensive platoon and a regular season record of nine victories and one defeat, remained a slim favorite.

Big Ten Co-Champs
Wisconsin, co-champions of the Big Ten with Purdue, had a record of six victories, two defeats and one tie, but boasted a more impressive and versatile offense.

Star players to watch were many. For Wisconsin, operating from a T-formation and some spreads, the men to keep an eye on included quarterback Jim Halusa, wearing jersey No. 12; halfbacks Bill Hutchinson (46), Jerry Witt (49), Tom Canny (46), Roger Dornburg (18), who may see action on offense as well as a linebacker, and fullback Alan Ameche (35).

At left end, Kent Peters (89) was one of the leading targets for Halusa's passes this season.

The Trojans, seeking to end the Big Ten reign that stretched back through six winning games with the Coast, employed the single wing attack.

Leading the offense all season for USC was left halfback Jim Sears (32), who also doubles as safety man on defense and was good enough to land All-America honors at this position.

Operating with Sears in the No. 1 backfield were right halfback Al Carmichael, (21) fullback Leon Sellers (44) and blocking back George Bozanic (38), with the two ends, Ron Miller (88) and Tom Jickeloff (80) available for the passes by Sears and his alternate, Rudy Bukich (18).

G-BURG RESUMES DRILLS FRIDAY
The Gettysburg College basketball squad will have its holiday vacation cut short in order to open drills Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Classes at the college will resume Monday morning.

Coach "Hen" Bream is summoning his 15-man varsity squad early to begin preparations for the resumption of the schedule next Wednesday evening against the Bucknell Bison at Lewisburg.

Morning and afternoon workouts have been scheduled for Saturday by Coach Bream.

The Bullets are currently undefeated with a record of five straight victories.

Following the Bucknell tilt the Orange and Blue dribblers will meet Johns Hopkins here Saturday evening, January 10.

Mulloy Wins Sugar Bowl Tennis Crown
NEW ORLEANS (P)—Sugar Bowl tennis champion Gardner Mulloy of Miami, Fla., won the rain-soaked 1952 tournament by playing one set to defeat Tom Brown of San Francisco yesterday.

Rain halted play in the singles finals last Monday after Brown won the opening set 6-4 and top-seeded Mulloy, defending his title, took the next two sets 8-6, 8-6.

More rain delayed the tourney on Tuesday. Mulloy wound up the match in bright sunshine yesterday afternoon by trimming Brown 6-2 in the final set.

In the doubles, Mulloy and Brown defeated Bernard Barten of San Angelo, Tex., and Grant Golden of Chicago 6-1, 3-6, 8-6.

FIGHT LAST NIGHT
Miami — Danny Nardico, 177, Tampa, stopped Jake La Motta, 173, New York, 8.

Bobby Shantz earned the title as "best fielding pitcher" by handling 78 chances without an error in 1952.

The West Virginia football team gained an average of five yards every time it carried the ball this season. They limited opponents to only 2.5 yards per carry.

FOUR BIG BOWL BATTLES WILL DRAW 500,000

By WILL GRIMSLEY
NEW YORK (P)—Close to half a million fans pour into football stadia from California to Florida today for the New Year's Day assortment of bowl games which millions of others had at their fingertips.

Unrestricted for the occasion, television picture tubes for the first time beamed all four of the major attractions into the nation's parlors, starting at 2 p. m. (EST). It's expected to produce the largest football viewing audience ever.

It should be a whale of a show, too.

Six of the country's top 10 teams are in action and nine all-America players spread their talent through the competing rosters. Odds indicate a series of close contests, with one touchdown deciding the issue in most cases.

Alabama Favored
Alabama, a hardened bowl veteran, is the only top heavy favorite, a 13½ point choice over debuting Syracuse, pride of the East, in the Orange Bowl at Miami.

Elsewhere, Southern California is a seven-point choice to break the Big Ten's six-year winning streak in its Rose Bowl battle with Wisconsin at Pasadena. Georgia Tech, winner of 11 straight games this year, is conceded a similar edge over Mississippi in the Sugar Bowl while Texas is 1½ over Tennessee at Dallas.

Here's the major bowl lineup, with radio and TV commitments: Rose Bowl, Pasadena—Southern California (9-1) vs. Wisconsin (6-2-1), 5 p. m. EST. NBC radio and TV.

Sugar Bowl, New Orleans—Georgia Tech (11-0) vs. Mississippi (8-0-2), 2 p. m. ABC radio and TV. Cotton Bowl, Dallas—Tennessee (6-1-1) vs. Texas (8-2), 2 p. m. NBC radio and TV.

Orange Bowl, Miami—Alabama (9-2) vs. Syracuse (7-2), 2 p. m. CBS radio and TV.

Four Other Games
There are four other bowl conflicts, including a battle between Tulsa and Florida in the Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, expected to draw 75,000.

The Salad Bowl at Phoenix has two service elevens, San Diego Navy and 101st Airborne Division; the Sun Bowl at El Paso, Tex., pits Mississippi Southern and College of the Pacific. The Tangerine Bowl at Orlando, Fla., matches East Texas State and Tennessee Tech.

In all, an estimated 400,000 was expected to pay $1,800,000 for today's entertainment. The teams collect additional thousands from TV and radio receipts.

Injury lists, which plagued many of the teams in practice, have dwindled and most of the competitors will be at full strength. Good weather is expected everywhere except New Orleans, where rain threatened.

Jimmy Sears, Southern Cal's 60-minute backfield ace, heads a glamorous list of performing all-Americans which also includes Tom Stohlhandske of Texas, end; Kline Gilbert of Mississippi, tackle; Dave Suminski of Wisconsin, tackle; John Michels of Tennessee, guard; Peter Brown, center, and Bobby Moorhead, linebacker, of Georgia Tech; Marvin Matuszak of Tulsa, guard, and Charles Laprad of Florida, tackle.

10 Games For Girls' Basketball Squad
Coach Grace Kenney's Gettysburg College women's basketball team will play ten games during the coming season according to a schedule released today by C. E. Bilheimer, college athletic director.

The coeds will open on Feb. 7 with Moravian College at Bethlehem. Other games on the schedule include: Feb. 12, Elizabethtown, away; Feb. 14, Lock Haven, home; Feb. 17, Millersville, home; Feb. 20, Shippensburg, away; Mar. 3, Elizabethtown, home; Mar. 7, Penn Hall, away; Mar. 10, Lebanon Valley, away; Mar. 12, Shippensburg, home, and Mar. 14, Sports Day (Wilson and Dickinson), home.

SWIMMERS OPEN JAN. 17
Gettysburg College's swimming team will open a rugged six meet schedule when it opposes Lehigh at Bethlehem on January 17. The balance of the schedule is: Jan. 14, Temple, home; Feb. 18, F. and M., away; Feb. 21, Georgetown, home; Feb. 25, Dickinson, home, and Feb. 28, Dickinson, F. and M., at Carlisle.

The West Virginia football team gained an average of five yards every time it carried the ball this season. They limited opponents to only 2.5 yards per carry.

Tennis Aces May Turn Professional

ADELAIDE, Australia (P)—Australia's top tennis ace—Frank Sedgman and Ken McGregor—remained mum today on whether they will turn professional.

The two, who led the Aussies to a 4-1 victory over the United States in the Davis Cup challenge round, participated in an afternoon exhibition here and were subjected to a barrage of questions.

They said nothing—absolutely nothing. They did not even bother to reply "no comment."

OKLAHOMA AND NORTH CAROLINA WIN CAGE TITLES

NEW YORK (P)—If the Oklahoma Aggies and North Carolina State don't own Oklahoma City's All-College Tournament and the Dixie Classic, they at least have a first mortgage on the two holiday basketball festivals.

The Aggies won the Oklahoma City competition last night for the 10th time in 17 years and the Wolfpack of North Carolina State wrapped up the Dixie crown for the fourth consecutive year. The Oklahoma Cowpokes whipped Idaho 51-49 with a blistering second half drive and the Wolfpack came from behind in the final half to down Brigham Young, 75-59, at Raleigh, N. C.

The triumphs of Oklahoma's Aggies, seventh ranked nationally, and 11th ranked N. C. State were more or less expected but not so the victory of Marquette over Minnesota, No. 9 in this week's Associated Press poll. The Gophers bowed 70-59 after rolling up five straight victories.

Loyola Defeated
Second ranked Seton Hall, however, kept its perfect record intact, romping over Loyola of Los Angeles 87-66 for the Pirates' 11th straight win.

As much a surprise as the downfall of Minnesota was the 91-69 conquest of Holy Cross by Wake Forest for third place in the Dixie tournament. Holy Cross, ranked 6th, entered the competition with a 5-0 record and came out with a 5-2 standing. N. C. State handed the New Englanders their other setback. Pennsylvania won the consolation title by beating North Carolina 70-62 as Ernie Beck racked up 28 points.

Third place in the Oklahoma City tourney went to the 1951 champions, Oklahoma City University, with a 49-40 victory over Wyoming. Western Kentucky, the nation's No. 10 team, took the consolation trophy with a record tournament score of 91-78 over Penn State.

Notre Dame Wins
In other major games, Notre Dame staved off a late rally by Northwestern for 62-57 decision. West Virginia held Cornell at bay in closing minutes for a 70-65 win; Tulsa, No. 8 nationally, turned back Bowling Green, 79-75 in a consolation fray at Oklahoma City, and Duke whipped Princeton 74-59 for seventh place in the Dixie competition.

East Central Oklahoma won the Enid tournament by beating Northwestern, Okla., 67-48 and Akron ended Colby's four game winning streak by a 71-68 count.

Centenary won the Gulf States Conference Tournament by beating Southwestern Louisiana, 84-78, while Missouri Valley took the Sunshine Tourney championship with a 77-76 overtime victory over Southwestern Oklahoma at Portales, N. M.

Seven Injured
Police said Mrs. Hahn was driving south toward Littlestown when the car skidded. She was taken to the Robert Hospital, James Hahn, 15, Robert, 8, and Charles, 7, who were in the car escaped injury.

Car, Truck Collide
A automobile and a truck collided at the intersection of the New Oxford and the Gettysburg-Hanover Roads at the east end of McSherrystown at 12:30 p. m. Wednesday, according to another state police report.

The car was operated by Ellen M. Fiske, 17, of Gettysburg R. 1, police said, and the truck, owned by the P. A. and S. Small Co., York, by Elton E. Rehmyer, 26, of 657 Pennsylvania Ave., York. The Fiske car was traveling east and the truck was going north.

Ellen Fiske suffered bruises of both knees, according to police, while Dorothy Ann Fiske, 15, received a fractured nose and injured right foot. Dana Fiske, 10, suffered a laceration of the forehead. The injured were treated by Dr. Anthony A. Tananalis of McSherrystown.

Damage to the Fiske car was estimated at $400 and to the truck at $200.

ALUMNI DEFEAT YORK SPRINGS IN YEARLY TILT

Larger size and increased experience helped the alumni and alumnae defeat the York Springs High School basketball teams Wednesday night in the annual conflict between the current squads and the graduates.

Charles Wishard, who two years ago was a top man on the York Springs High School basketball team, turned in 21 points as his contribution toward the alumni's 83 to 43 victory over the current cagers, Mac Lott, now a student at Michigan State, garnered 15 of the points and Reinacker and U. Guise with 13 and 12 points added to the victory over the present representatives of the high school.

The game held fairly even in the first quarter, but after that the Alumni walked away with the game, scoring 51 points in the next two quarters.

Sister Against Sister
Carolyn Snyder, now a freshman at Gettysburg College, proved she hasn't lost her skill with the basketball by tallying 29 points for the alumnae. Carolyn's 29 tally alone was enough to defeat the high school team. The final score was 48 for the alumnae and 24 for the high school. It was sister against sister in the struggle with Carolyn Snyder on the alumnae and her sister Kay playing for the high school squad.

The loss was the ninth of the season for the boys against one win and the fifth for the season for the girls against one victory. The Manchester High School boys team will meet the York Springs boys Friday night at York Springs.

WET RECEPTION FOR NEW YEAR
By The Associated Press
The new year got a wet reception today in many parts of the country.

Snowfall had reached six inches in depth in mountains of Western Pennsylvania, and more was predicted in that region. One to three inches of snow fell from Maryland northward to Boston along the Atlantic Coast and inland to Southern New York.

In the plains states, from Texas northward to Nebraska, rain or snow was forecast today. Rain and snow also was predicted in the mountains states. In the Upper Mississippi River valley, drizzling rain and snow flurries were expected.

Temperatures were slightly above normal in the central and western states, and about normal in the eastern area.

Rainfall was moderate to heavy Wednesday in the Southeast. Heavy snowfall occurred Wednesday in parts of the Southwest.

Tony DeSpirito Seeks New Title

MIAMI, Fla. (P)—Wiry little Tony DeSpirito, all-time champion jockey with 390 winners last year, begins the new year with another ambition—to be the leading rider at Tropical Park's current meeting.

DeSpirito, who broke the record when he booted home his 389th winner Tuesday and added another yesterday, had planned to take a rest after the new year but changed his mind and now wants to beat out Charlie Burr for riding honors at the 40-day meeting.

Burr, who was leading jockey in 1951 with 310, has won 22 since Tropical Park began a 42-day meeting last Thanksgiving Day. DeSpirito is second with 20 winners.

The weatherman gave an optimistic report to the 82,000-sellout crowd and thousands of other fans who planned to watch the game on television (ABC). He said a new rain front moving in from the West wasn't expected until after tomorrow.

JAKE LAMOTTA LOSES TO DANNY NARDICO IN 8TH

MIAMI, Fla. (P)—Young Danny Nardico looked for a shot at the light heavyweight title today after stunning former middleweight champion Jake LaMotta with a technical knockout in eight rounds.

Nardico, 11-5 underdog from Tampa, Fla., wants to fight Archie Moore for the crown and the International Boxing Club said before the bout that the winner would be in line for a title bout. However, Moore is under contract to give Joey Maxim a chance to regain the crown he lost last Dec. 17.

Nardico was ahead in the eyes of both judges and the referee when he floored LaMotta early in the seventh round with a smashing right. It was the first time in his career that LaMotta had been put down.

Takes Count of 8
As LaMotta backed away from a flurry in the middle of the ring, Nardico caught him with the right. The "Bronx Bull" fell back into the ropes, then went down on a count of eight.

LaMotta regained his feet and Nardico was on him like a tiger. He drove Jake to a corner and hammered him furiously. Jake staggered to his corner at the bell.

A boxing commission doctor examined LaMotta and the Bronx battler's seconds yelled to referee Billy Regan: "That's all."

LAKERS' COACH TO PILOT WEST
By The Associated Press
John Kundla, coach of the Minneapolis Lakers, will be in charge of the Western division aces when they oppose the best of the Eastern division in the National Basketball Association's all-star game at Fort Wayne Jan. 13.

Kundla's selection was assured last night when his Lakers blisters 82-56 to retain first place in the Western division. Under the league rules the coach of the divisions' leading teams automatically becomes the all-star coach.

Joe Lapchick of the New York Knickerbockers will handle the Eastern division stars.

Baltimore Loses 8th
Baltimore's setback was the ninth straight for the Bullets.

Rochester's Royals remained within a game of the Lakers by downing Milwaukee's Hawks 82-74 in the first game of the double-header at Fort Wayne. In the other game, the Pistons of Fort Wayne squeezed out a 91-85 victory over the Indianapolis Olympians with Larry Foust scoring 25 points.

Paced by Bill Sharman's 29 points, the Boston Celtics moved into second place back of the Knicks in the Eastern division by defeating the Syracuse Nationals 97-87.

Tonight's Schedule: New York at Philadelphia, Fort Wayne at Syracuse, Baltimore at Milwaukee and Boston at Rochester.

Today's Talk

SQUIRREL LIFE

It is strange how we are drawn in attention to the antics of birds or animals within our sight. I have dropped my papers and left my typewriter no less than a dozen times this day in order that I might study the movements of half dozen or so grey squirrels outside my library window. I am the only person in this household who is their friend.

These lively, interesting creatures gnaw the wood about the windows of my home, and do destruction to trees and shrubs—but I can't help liking them. They are my friends. A beautiful large grey squirrel and a black one are so tame that they take nuts from my hand and come readily at my call. I love to note them at play. In one of the trees near the spring where they like to congregate is their winter nest of leaves high in the crotch of a tree.

John Burroughs was fond of squirrels and wrote a book about them which I prize. They are active, resourceful, and intelligent. Often one will fall from a great height, yet scam off as though nothing had happened. I witnessed one of these falls of three stories to a stone walk below and saw the little chap run off without a whimper.

At my summer island retreat in Nova Scotia, for years I had a small company of red squirrels so tame that they sat on my lap or shoulder and ate peanuts as I handed them out. One would sit and call for me in the morning and spring to me as I opened the door of my lodge. Last summer, upon taking a book from my small library in the lodge, I noted a pile of tiny seeds that had been carefully taken from pine cones—a thousand or more, but nothing had been disturbed. It must have taken hours to get those seeds set aside for winter. In one place in my tool house was a box of leaves, holding at least a bushel, for a winter home, which had been brought in one by one from a hole outside. Patient creatures!

A six-inch snow covered the ground recently and I noted a grey squirrel dig through it and come up with a nut. How did he know it was there? Where did he get his education? There is no regimentation in the squirrel world! Theirs is the perfect democratic existence.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Before and After" Protected, 1953, George Matthew Adams Service

NEW YEAR'S PRAYER
Father, through the year before,
'Gainst the threat of tyrant might
Grant us courage, more and more
To defend the cause of right.

Slow as still our progress seems,
Brave and patient may we be,
Seeking these two ancient dreams:
Brotherhood and liberty.

May our aim and purpose be
Proved by every act and trait,
So in us the world shall see
All that makes a people great.

BRIDE TO WEAR

2 RINGS ON HER WEDDING DAY

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—Catherine E. Larson, 18, a blue-eyed blonde, will wear two engagement rings today when she is married to Glen E. Andrews.

The one on her left hand was given her by Andrews, a 24-year-old veteran of Korea and Heartbreak Ridge.

The ring on Catherine's right hand was given her by the late Pfc. Robert E. Heath of Binghamton, N. Y., her childhood sweetheart, and Glen's closest buddy in Korea.

Bob Heath was killed on Heartbreak Ridge. His death was a heartbreak for Catherine. The day he died—Sept. 27, 1951—one of the four stones from the diamond ring he gave Catherine fell from its setting and was lost.

"I'll never wear the ring repaired," Catherine told a reporter last night, "because the stone fell out the day of Bob's death. I want to wear the ring the same as it looked that day."

"I'll never take it off. Bob and I knew each other since we were children. I'll wear his ring forever."

Bob was to have been rotated home from Korea three days after a stray bullet from another U. S. soldier's rifle cut him down during the frantic battle of Heartbreak. It was Glen, out of his battle-line friendship for Bob, who wrote Catherine the details of her fiancé's death.

A correspondence followed. Mrs. Eric H. Larson, Catherine's mother, said yesterday:

"For a while she lost all interest in life. My husband and I were very grateful when letters started coming again from Korea and she began writing there once more. Of course, we never imagined that anything serious would develop of that correspondence."

But something did develop. When Glen was discharged, he moved from his home in Hannibal, Mo., and took a clerical job here to be near Catherine.

Today, new candles will glow in Trinity Augustana Lutheran Church, reflecting tiny beams from two engagement rings and a gold band when Glen whispers to Catherine:

"With this ring I thee wed."

ing and Sunday evening.

Three Pastors At Episcopal: At the Prince of Peace Episcopal church, the Rev. A. A. Hughes, assisted by the Rev. T. W. Null and the Rev. George Barnes, officiated at midnight mass. The church was filled to capacity and the choir sang a special mass.

York Springs

Senorita Sylvia Cleves is in Washington for several days with Colombian friends.

Clifford Snyder, doing post graduate work at the Juilliard Graduate School of Music, New York, flew home, arriving on Sunday to spend two days with his mother, Mrs. Spencer Snyder, York Springs. Recently Mr. Snyder was presented in recital at Carl Fischer Hall in New York together with two other artists by the New York Singing Teachers Association. He is soloist at the Broadway Tabernacle, one of New York's large downtown churches.

Donald Lehman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lehman, York Springs, surprised his parents on Sunday morning by arriving from Germany. He was scheduled to sail about January 1 and his family had expected him the middle of January, but he flew from Europe and reached home earlier. Mr. Lehman has gone to Indiantown Gap to await his release from the Army.

The York Springs area was a center of large family Christmas gatherings. Among the groups were the Emory Guise family which numbered 20. From out of town they had Mr. and Mrs. Robert Guise and son, York; Mr. and Mrs. Carol Heisey and son and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Beck, Lancaster. The George Myers family had their daughters, Mabel and Viola, home from Harrisburg and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Myers from Aberdeen, Md. Paul is now a mathematician at the Aberdeen Proving Ground. The "granddaddy" of all family parties was at the home of Gilbert Fair, York Springs.

Thirty-seven members of the family dined on 56-pounds of turkey. There are 43 family members but six of them could not be present.

LINK OFFICIAL TO SUSPECT IN BRINK ROBBERY

BOSTON (AP)—Attention in the Brink's investigation has switched to a minor Massachusetts state official after it was disclosed the Department of Justice has information he tried to arrange a parole for a man suspected by the FBI as a participant in the $1,219,000 robbery.

The information is that the minor official sent an emissary to Pennsylvania in efforts to speed a parole for Joseph "Specs" O'Keefe, 44-year-old Boston gunman serving a three year term in Bradford, Pa., County jail for carrying guns and ammunition.

The name of the official was not disclosed. It was reported he was a witness before the grand jury, now in its sixth week of the Brink's investigation.

Margiotti Testifies
O'Keefe was brought here from his jail cell to testify before the grand jury and was cited for contempt of court for refusing to answer questions other than such queries as his name and address.

Another recent witness before the grand jury was Charles J. Margiotti of Pittsburgh, former Pennsylvania attorney general.

His testimony—as is all testimony before the grand jury—was secret, but federal prosecutors indicated he provided valuable information.

Meanwhile, Art Rooney, owner of the Pittsburgh Steelers of the National Football League, denied that he had anything to do with lining up counsel for O'Keefe in Pennsylvania.

He told newsmen by telephone from Pittsburgh that he "never heard of O'Keefe until I read about him in the papers. I don't know anything about the Brink's case."

Another recent witness before the grand jury was Charles J. Margiotti of Pittsburgh, former Pennsylvania attorney general.

His testimony—as is all testimony before the grand jury—was secret, but federal prosecutors indicated he provided valuable information.

Meanwhile, Art Rooney, owner of the Pittsburgh Steelers of the National Football League, denied that he had anything to do with lining up counsel for O'Keefe in Pennsylvania.

Records show that counsel for O'Keefe when he was sentenced to three years in June, 1950, was Maurice Epstein, a U. S. commissioner in that section of Pennsylvania.

Records also show that counsel for O'Keefe when he sought a parole a year later was Margiotti, Pennsylvania attorney general in 1949 and part of 1950 and head of the parole board by virtue of that office.

It was reported in the federal building in Boston that FBI detainees thwarted any plans for O'Keefe's parole.

FOSTERPARENTS SUSPECTED OF GIRL'S SLAYING

DES ARC, Ark. (P)—Sheriff E. O. Hamilton said last night that a 5-year-old girl, whose body was found stuffed in a homemade rain barrel at her home, was murdered.

A pick up order was radioed out of state last night by the Sheriff for the child's stepfather, James W. Head, who disappeared from his farm home near here Monday. Mrs. Linda Head, stepmother of the dead child, is being held in jail here without charge for questioning.

Hamilton identified the victim as Mary Head. He said her body, wrapped in baling wire and curtain cloth, was found Tuesday by a posseman. The rain barrel was fashioned from an old airplane wing tank.

Neighbor Notifies Police
Search for the girl started after a neighbor, who saw her Dec. 23, returned the following day with some Christmas presents and, when she couldn't be found, notified police.

In Little Rock, Dr. Anderson Nettleship, state medical examiner said the child died from drowning and that the body had been in the water for four or five days.

"I know the little girl was murdered and that the goings on at their home were not normal," Hamilton said. "I'm particularly anxious to catch the man (Head), and then, perhaps, we will be able to determine just what happened."

The body was weighted down with a 10-pound sledge hammer and some old scales. Hamilton said there were burns on the child's back and head, and a bruise on her chin. He said Mrs. Head told him the child was burned in a grass fire and was bruised when she fell on a plow.

Mrs. Head told the sheriff the child died from natural causes, but her husband refused to allow funeral services because "he was afraid he would be recognized and returned to Ohio, where he is wanted for something."

Mrs. Head said she didn't know why her husband was wanted in Ohio, but that, "I think it has something to do with money."

Hamilton said Mrs. Head told him she dressed the body of Mary and turned it over to her husband and that "I never knew what he did with her. When I asked him he refused to tell me."

Mrs. Head said Mary was given to her and her husband two years ago in Ohio. She told Hamilton the child's father was Everett Wolfe of Lorain, O.

B-O INDICTED; DENY IT FILED FALSE PAPERS

WASHINGTON (P)—The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, indicted on charges of making false statements, today emphatically denied it had ever misled anyone about its financial condition.

The denial came from B. and O. President Roy B. White of Baltimore after a federal grand jury in Washington returned an 11-count indictment against the company.

The indictment charged that B. and O., nearly 10 years ago, made false reports on its finances to the Interstate Commerce Commission and the Reconstruction Finance Corp.

B. and O. at the time was negotiating — successfully — with RFC for an extension of time in which to repay loans totaling 80 million dollars it had obtained from RFC during the depression of the 1930's.

The grand jury action served to keep alive a controversy which has been going on almost ever since the extension was granted in 1944. Had there been no indictment prior to last midnight, the whole matter would have become permanently closed under the statute of limitations.

The grand jury, called in by Atty. Gen. McGranery just 24 days ago, reported only a few hours before the legal deadline. Should a conviction result, the company could be liable to fines totaling $110,000.

President White, in denying any false financial reports, said the company probably will make a detailed statement after it sees the indictment.

Last Day To File Charge
Atty. Gen. McGranery just 24 ports with ICC and RFC which did not jibe with its books.

As an example, the indictment alleged the company reported a general sinking fund balance on April 30, 1943, of $28,290,193.58 when the books reflected a balance of 83 cents. It charged the company's cash balance as of Jan. 31, 1943, was reported as $3,985,578 when the cash balance on the books showed as $32,272,465.81.

NEW WEAPONS MAY HAVE PUT FEAR INTO REDS

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (P)—On April 13, 1950, President Truman, in a confident and optimistic mood, said the prospects for lasting peace were better than at any time since the start of the cold war in 1946.

Two months later the Communists began the war in Korea. Now, after two years of dealing with them, the President is a little more cautious about his forecasts. He said he was not a prophet when newsmen asked him yesterday about the prospects for peace now.

But under prodding he said he thought peace chances in 1953 looked brighter than a year ago all around the world. He didn't give his reason for saying so except to say he knows a lot of things he can't talk about.

May Fear New Weapon
One of the reasons for his guarded optimism may have been the kind of weapons this country has been able to build, including the atom bomb, which might act as a deterrent on Russian intentions.

For, not long after the President spoke, his director of defense mobilization, Henry H. Fowler, issued a quarterly and final report on this country's defense preparations.

Fowler who is resigning, said: "I believe it is probable that the technical superiority of our country, particularly in the field of atomic weapons, has been the decisive factor that has deterred the Soviet Union in the past few years from attempting aggression on a scale that might result in global war."

"The superiority of our weapons has offset the advantage which the Kremlin has in the size of the military forces it can control."

Keep Ahead Of Reds
"If this country should ever permit the military technology of the Communist world to get ahead of our own, even if only in a limited range of offensive or defensive weapons, then we would be in imminent peril of world-wide Communist attack."

That this country is in better shape for a big war than it was in 1950, when preparations were pitiful, was amply set forth by Fowler in his appraisal of what's been done so far in the program which got under way after Korea.

But the bulk of the weapons which this country needs, Fowler said, are still to be completed even though the defense program has made impressive progress. The program, he said, is in "mid-passage."

And just so we won't be taking any chances anyway, Fowler made clear, a master plan is being drawn up for military output on a huge scale if we do get into an all-out war.

So what may have appeared yesterday as more Truman optimism, in spite of his error in 1950, was apparently the kind of guarded optimism which may hope for peace but wants to be all set for war if it comes.

slow up business and spending for a time. We have been living at a high rate of artificial business activity and coming down to a more reasonable pace may hurt if brakes are applied. The brakes are long overdue.

"As to conditions in our field which affect the farmers and growers and through them the business life of our communities. I think you know this has been a good year for growers in almost every field. Apple prices have been good, reflecting the law of supply and demand despite some falling off in other commodity prices. Except where growing conditions were spotty as happened in some areas — we saw a fairly large crop of fairly good quality come into a pretty good market for canned apple, tomato, and cherry products. That is a combination of events and does not always happen. In 1951 a large apple crop came into a rather weak market — so we were happy to see our growers do pretty well in 1952. We want them to prosper — quality products come from successful growers.

Industry In Good Condition

"No one can predict the weather, the size of the 1953 crops, or other such items for our field in 1953. But the 1952 crop was not so large as to exhaust the trees and with good weather at pollination time and other important periods we might do as well in 1953. But apples like other crops face competition from other products and other parts of the country as well as conditions affecting all demand and all prices. We pay much attention to the 'right price' but we have no control over prices and growing conditions which are the major items. However, the industry is in good condition right now and that will help in looking forward to 1953."

Men Of

pacities of our nation are capable of sustaining a high standard of living for all of our people and it seems to me that we are beginning to realize that our economy can be sustained by private enterprise.

"There would seem to be strong possibilities of tax reductions in the reasonably near future. This will prove to be very stimulating to initiative and to business in general. There is hope that the new national administration will return to the original concept of taxation — that it is to produce revenues to finance the legitimate operations of government and not to be spent in socializing the nation or in socialistic experiments. We have good reasons to believe that federal financing will be put on a sound, practical basis and that economies will be effected in such manner as to have a favorable effect on our economy.

"These improvements cannot be completed in days or weeks or months. They will take time. But it is most encouraging to see so many men of proven ability and high integrity taking an active role in our national government. Ample credit is available to finance industry and business and with all of these constructive factors at our command and with the firm faith of our fathers to sustain us in any situation, we have before us a future that will be just as bright and just as good and just as prosperous as we determine to make it."

PEACE OUTLOOK BETTER: TRUMAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Truman said Wednesday the outlook for world peace is better now than it was a year ago.

Truman explained, at his last news conference of the year, that he was referring to the outlook for the cold war in all parts of the world.

He said no new plan for hastening the end of the Korean War had been submitted to him. But he added that obviously he could not talk about such a plan even if one existed, unless it was something to be put into operation immediately.

Truman announced he will appear on radio and television Jan. 15 from 10:30 to 11:00 p. m., Eastern Standard Time, to report to the people on the state of the nation.

This address, he said, will contain some material in addition to what he will give Congress in his formal State of the Union message early next week. He will not appear before Congress in person.

Mummasburg

MUMMASBURG—Mr. and Mrs. Guy Hartman and daughter, Helen, and son, Harry, and Mrs. Minnie Houck visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wise, Chambersburg, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Miller entertained at dinner on Christmas day a number of friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Wilson entertained at a turkey dinner on Christmas Day. Those present included: Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Wilson and daughter, Barbara Ann and son, Richard, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Emlet and daughter, Jane, and son, Rodney, of Wrightsville; Mr. and Mrs. John Martin and daughter, Vickie Lee; Gary Wilson; Melvin Wilson, and Mrs. Florence Wilson.

Miss Jane Emlet, of Wrightsville, is spending the holiday season at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Wilson.

S. Sgt. James Kauffman, who was stationed at Georgia, and his mother, Mrs. Bessie Riddle, of Hanover, visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Cullison and family on Friday. S. Sgt. Kauffman will report to a camp in Mississippi on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Cullison and children, Nancy, Patsy and Kenneth, visited at the home of Mrs. Bessie Riddle in Hanover on Christmas Day.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Moose and daughter, Linda, and son, Larry, Reisterstown, were Friday visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Fidler and family.

SAYS STUDENT ENTERTAINMENT IS NECESSARY

HARRISBURG (AP)—A prominent educator told Pennsylvania's school teachers Wednesday they should mix a little entertaining with their teaching.

"When we crowd our students too hard, we all but push ourselves into nervous prostration," said T. V. Smith, professor of poetry, politics and philosophy at Syracuse University.

Smith delivered the centennial address before the final session of the annual three-day convention of the Pennsylvania State Education Association.

"As for positive results with the children themselves, I find that I often do a better job when I try to entertain students than when I try too seriously to educate them," Smith told the nearly 3,000 teachers attending the convention. Smith also urged the instilling of "internal discipline" in the students.

"Only internal discipline can make liberty and order compatible and so can create individuality," he added.

Criticizes Committee
Addressing an evening session Wednesday, Dr. Francis B. Haas, superintendent of public instruction, criticized what he implied were failures of a Chesterman Committee survey of the state's educational system.

"I have no quarrel with professional criticism implying absence of leadership," said Haas. "However, such criticism must be preceded by a clear definition of leadership as understood by this individual offering the criticism. Furthermore, it must identify

WILL REVIEW STATE'S THREE DEER SEASONS

HARRISBURG (AP)—The State Game Commission plans an early review of present regulations which specify three separate deer seasons for Pennsylvania hunters.

The subject will come before the regular quarterly meeting of the group Jan. 8, Thomas D. Frye, and specify the areas in which leadership is lacking. So far as I am concerned, it must not be a generalization which appears to imply that the professional staff of the Department of Public Instruction has made and is making no leadership contribution to education in Pennsylvania."

commission executive director, disclosed yesterday.

"However," he pointed out, "any changing must be done through the Legislature. It isn't in the commission's hands."

He explained that the present setup calling for a special archer's season, the buck season, and then an antlerless deer season is established in accordance with laws passed by the 1951 State Legislature.

Hunters Complain
Many hunters complained after the antlerless (doe) season that a shortage of buck was due in part to the open hunting on doe last year and this fall.

The commission has issued only a preliminary report on the buck (main) deer season, stating that the early kill was below expectations.

Some hunters have complained that the antlerless season brings about the killing of far too many button, spike, and shedder bucks, all types that have lost their antlers. During buck season legal game is defined as animals with visible antlers.

Frye said that the "entire commission does and has for years" supported the single season principle.

"It's just that we can't convince the Legislature."

LITTLE MAN OF YEAR PREFERS TV COWBOY SHOWS

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP)—That man of the year, the little man, any guy trying to sit out this New Year's Eve quietly, finished reading his paper and leaned back. He could hear his wife in the kitchen with the dishes.

He reached over to turn on the TV and then didn't. Later, this was going to be a noisy night. He'd turn it on around midnight so he could look at the mobs in the night clubs blowing horns.

He always liked to sit back and watch other people perform. He had done plenty of performing himself on other New Year's Eves. That seemed a long time ago, not so long. Just a few years. Well, why not this year.

Maybe it was because he was a little older. He got up and looked in the mirror, not much older. He could still parade around if he wanted to. Bu, this time he was glad he was home.

Likes Cowboy Shows
"Why don't you turn on the machine?" his wife said. "I'll be in a minute." He said "All right" and turned on the TV switch. Some people guessing about a man in a mask. He didn't feel like guessing. He turned the dial.

Cowboys. He liked one thing about cowboys. All you had to do was figure out who was good and who was bad and you knew which side would win. It made him feel like an author. He wished everything else was that easy.

Being a cowboy might have been rough, he said to the cowboys, but I bet it wasn't as rough as just living through the past 20 years. The cowboys ignored him. He toned them down a bit.

Suddenly all the cowboys on one side began dropping as the marksmanship of the other side improved. He felt pretty healthy himself, he thought. He was glad he had some time left.

"I wouldn't want to miss these next few years," he said to himself.

He had lived through the depression, through the New Deal, the "Fair Deal," the big war, and now once again everybody was armed, alert for a shot that would start another war, hoping it would not come.

He felt grateful to Franklin Roosevelt for all he had done, and to Harry Truman for all he had done or tried to do, and as for Gen. Eisenhower he wished him and family visited the former's daughter, Sister St. Ida, Washington, D. C. Friday.

A. J. Golden, York, and Charles Golden, Cazenova, N. Y., have concluded a visit of several days with the Misses Theresa and Anna Golden.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Albert Chrismer and son, Tommy, Hopewell, Va., spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gebhart, Robert Chrismer, a student at Penn State, is also spending the holidays here.

quantities, they are now faced with a letdown in consumption necessitating a shrinkage in production and simultaneously with that a need for a more intensive sales program.

"The economic boom has been with us for a long time. We are living under a semi-controlled economy — the Government has developed extraordinary powers over economic and financial patterns. Also there exists within the Government extraordinary powers to ease a precipitous downward shock, if it should come.

"The new administration is faced with many serious and complex economic problems since they are 'taking over' after many years of post war boom supported by numerous artificial stimuli and accompanied by no little blundering. In contrast, Roosevelt 'took over' after an 'unprecedented bust' with no other but an upward course to follow.

"In the upward trend that followed from Roosevelt to Truman every effort was made by the political and economic 'white-haired boys' to destroy the free enterprise system of our economy. This is not to discount many important changes in social and economic gains which will remain for a long time to come and will accrue important benefits to both labor and industry.

However, the same changes might have been accomplished without the hostility and bitterness that has developed between industry and labor, and without the dangerous patterns and standards that might make our readjustment downward more difficult.

"We have reached the crossroads of our future once again, but the philosophy of our economy with its code of ethics, its principles of action, its policy of square dealing, together with its flair for creative selling still constitutes a firm foundation for the successful enterprise.

Confidence!

Do you remember how, when you were a child, your doctor would tickle your mouth with a cotton swab, or how as you were leaving the dentist's of fee he would hand you a lollipop? Children should be taught early in life to look on the family doctor and dentist as their friend, for confidence in the doctor will make for a speedier recovery if your children should become ill.

WHAT'S MY LINE?

To that question, the skilled men who man our body and paint shop would answer.

"BODY LINES"

We're proud of the jobs our body shop can do with body lines of your car. No wreck too small for our "wreck-speris." Call 740.
